Set 400 years in the future, Starborne: Frontiers is a multiplatform RPG that combines the best aspects of autobattlers with squad-based tactics. On the wild edge of galactic civilization, factions from Earth, Luna, Mars, and beyond all fight for a piece of the action. To protect you and yours in this lawless expanse, you'll need to rise to the task.

Step into the command seat and build a fleet by recruiting starships, upgrading their equipment, and training your pilots to conquer the galaxy's greatest threats. Strategize your way to victory and reap the rewards as you learn to use your ships' unique abilities to their full potential in battle, leaving your mark on this beautiful, dangerous starscape.

Stake your Claim

Battle your way through increasingly difficult missions that will take you deep into the territory of the biggest factions on the Frontier. From the ever-growing Atlas Corporation, to the Zealot Pirates of XAOC, to the Immortal "Children" of Everliving, uncover their plots and establish your dominance by defeating the best they have to throw at you.

Upgrade wisely

Strengthen your forces by upgrading their levels, improving their skills, and installing powerful equipment sets of your choice. A wide range of possible equipment combinations allows for countless options to match your preferred strategy.

COLLECT OVER 90 CAPTAINS

BUILD YOUR FLEET

An expanding list of Captains at your fleet's disposal

Assemble an elite team from dozens of captains, each with their own unique skills and backstories. With over 90 options, build the fleet you want, and use them to take on the dangers hidden in every corner of the galaxy.

FIGHT EPIC BOSSES

Survive against all odds

From fleets to goliaths, face unique challenges that will require all your knowledge and experience to defeat them. Discover the mysterious Anomalies, and take on Bounties to test your mettle against unique boss encounters, where strategic positioning and skill coordination will be the key to survival. Great rewards await the victorious.

Creative Tactics

Every battle in Frontiers has thousands of possible combinations of ships, loadouts, and unit formations. Can you find the best tactic for every situation? Take on daily, weekly, and monthly challenges as you strive to become the greatest commander on the Frontier, and then defend that title against challengers in the PvP arena!

History:

Frontiers is the second game by Solid Clouds, and their first to be available on both mobile and PC. Set in the same universe as their debut game, Sovereign Space, Frontiers lets you get to know the major players of the Starborne Universe like never before. The Starborne Universe is a complex space opera 7 years in the making, and Frontiers sets you face to face with its warring factions; each with their own backstory, motivations, and cast of characters for you to tangle with on your quest for galactic supremacy.

Solid Clouds:

Solid Clouds was founded in Reykjavik, Iceland in 2013 by Stefán Gunnarsson, Stefán Björnsson, and Sigurður Arnljótsson, the original CEO and co-founder of developer CCP Games. Their growing team hails from a variety of backgrounds, ranging from industry veterans to fresh newcomers, with the same shared goal of pushing the boundaries of established game genres. Their first game, Starborne: Sovereign Space, combined the best elements of 4X Grand Strategy and MMOs to create a completely unique experience. Starborne: Frontiers will be the second game from the studio, expanding their rich universe of lore and intrigue from a completely new angle. The team at Solid Clouds is passionate about their games and excited to explore the future of the Starborne universe and help make Frontiers the best that it can be.
